Mayor Announces Holiday Parking for Downtown

MIDDLETOWN – In keeping with a successful tradition, Mayor Sebastian N. Giuliano today announced that the Parking Authority would once again be offering holiday parking to downtown shoppers.

Amnesty for Holiday Parking – from Thanksgiving to New Year’s Day, there is FREE PARKING on WEEKENDS for anyone attending holiday events, including Holiday on Main Street and shopping or doing business in the Downtown.

December 11th, (two weeks before Christmas), begins amnesty for parking on MAIN & COURT STREETS ONLY and will continue up to Christmas!

Motorists will find in place of a ticket, a red note informing them that a citation wasn’t issued “in the spirit of the holiday season”! the note warns that a ticket can and will be issued if the vehicle is still parked in front of an expired meter on the next patrol.

“We want to make our downtown inviting for area shoppers,” said Giuliano. “The amnesty program allows for some leniency towards individuals who are visiting our downtown merchants and still allows habitual violators to be cited for non-compliance.”

This program is intended for holiday shoppers only. Employers and employees of Downtown businesses are asked not to park in spaces set aside for customers!
